

Creative Workshops 4 to 8 year-olds

For homeschoolers and after school.

ARTrageous Workshops meets TUESDAYS

Combining culture and the art styles of various artists as the premise for design, this artistic and tactile journey explores various ways for children to "express" themselves using different mediums such as collage, printmaking, paper-maché, hand-building with clay, creating with recycled treasures or experimenting with acrylic and watercolor paint and other embellishments to complete the projects, while experiencing a high-energy, interactive hands-on approach to art.

ARTrageous Club meets TUESDAYS

Explore, Experiment, Create and Make New Friends...Children explore their creativity in this relaxed paced environment fostering individuality, uniqueness and courage to try new things. This exciting after school club creates opportunities for children to discover, explore, and create art together or individually. Young artists are guided through a colorful adventure in which they can explore a variety of artistic mediums, while discovering facts about different artists. Children discuss, design and collaborate on their own T-shirt design for the club. This is a great way for children to unwind after school.

Got Science? meets TUESDAYS

Curriculum is chosen to create a journey through the science spectrum of biology, chemistry, human anatomy, space and physics, while exploring physical and chemical properties of different elements, compounds and mixtures, performing different slimy, fizzy and gooey experiments, touching base with a few insects, dinosaurs and mammals, discovering facts about our solar system and all about "you." This workshop is intended as an 18-week session, so children should be registered for each session, or all at once, in order to experience all the areas of exploration and discovery.
